Fundamentals of HIV STD & Hepatitis Counseling Training

This three-day workshop will demonstrate effective, client-centered counseling strategies to assist clients in reducing their risks of acquiring or transmitting HIV, hepatitis, and other sexually transmitted diseases. Participants will learn how to personalize counseling messages and develop realistic and incremental risk reduction plans with their clients. This workshop will also cover testing, post-test counseling, and locating appropriate resources for clients who test positive.

Faculty

Shane Scharer, Iowa Dept. of Public Health
Rachel Stolz, Council Bluffs Health Department
Elizabeth McChesney, Iowa Dept. of Public Health.
Darla Peterson, Siouxland Community Health Center
LaShaina Woods, Iowa Dept. of Public Health

Audience

This workshop is designed for persons working in HIV/Hepatitis/STD prevention and care, nurses, clinicians, social workers, community educators, substance abuse treatment counselors, and other professional counselors.

Objectives

At the conclusion of this training participants will be able to:

- Accurately define, history, and goals of HIV prevention counseling;
- Utilize knowledge, skills, and practices essential for effective HIV prevention counseling within the context of conventional and rapid testing;
- Demonstrate through practice sessions the six steps of prevention counseling;
- Demonstrate how to incorporate conventional and rapid testing into six step protocol; and
- Identify differences and similarities in using six-step protocol in sessions with conventional and rapid test clients.

Registration

Space for this training is limited to 18 participants; early registration is encouraged. Attendance is required for all three days. Because the Bureau of HIV, STD, and Hepatitis sponsors this workshop, priority will be given to individuals working in state-funded counseling, testing, and referral sites. There is no fee for this training.
