From the WIC Program Goals Manual - 215.12 A Your Rights and Responsibilities as a WIC Participant

I understand that:

- I am encouraged to participate in the health services and nutrition education provided by my local agency.
- The standards for eligibility and participation in the WIC Program are the same for everyone, regardless of race, color, national origin, age, handicap, or sex.
- I can file a complaint if I believe I have been treated unfairly.
- I can appeal any decision made by the local agency about my eligibility.

As a WIC participant:

- I can get WIC checks from only one local agency at a time.
- I will use my WIC checks only to buy approved WIC foods.
- I will bring my WIC checks back to the clinic if changes are needed. I will not alter my WIC checks.
- I will be removed from the program if I do not use my checks for three months in a row.
- I cannot get food from the Polk County Commodity Supplemental Food Program for any family member who gets WIC benefits.
- I understand that my record can be read by staff of the Iowa Department of Public Health.
- I understand that my name, address, phone number, and date of birth can be shared with the local Head Start agency and with local and state public health agencies that also serve persons eligible for the WIC Program. This will make it easier for my family to receive information about other services.
- I have read or been advised of my rights and responsibilities. I have provided correct information about my eligibility for this federal program. Program officials may verify the information I provided. I know that if I lie or hide facts to get WIC foods that I am not eligible to receive, I may be required to repay the cash value of those foods and may be subject to civil or criminal prosecution under state and federal law.

Description: For one in five U.S. teen girls, the most vivid memories of high school will not be her junior prom or a favorite history teacher. Instead, 20% of teen girls will remember the abuse inflicted by someone they were dating.

Teens experiencing relationship abuse are more likely to report unhealthy diet behaviors, engage in substance abuse, and report having suicidal thoughts. Given these sobering facts, adolescent relationship abuse (ARA) is a major health concern facing teens today, and health care providers have a unique role to play in preventing it. Not only can they provide valuable prevention messages to help their patients build healthy relationships, but medical professionals are also uniquely positioned to help those exposed to abuse access the resources they need.

Clinical settings that serve adolescents in particular, such as confidential teen clinics and school health centers, are strategic sites for adolescent health promotion, prevention, and intervention. Unfortunately, the standard-of-care within adolescent health settings does not currently include specified protocols to assess for or intervene to reduce ARA. This webinar will provide participants with strategies and tools to provide universal education on safe, consensual and healthy relationships, as well as models for trauma-informed responses to disclosures of ARA.
