

Walking with a Purpose Success Story: Decatur County

The Walking with a Purpose assessment was completed in Lamoni from June 18 through June 23 by school personnel and other adults. An area around the school of approximately one mile that leads to the library and parks was examined. The assessment revealed that half the sidewalks in the town are walkable and do not need any additional work. However, there are some areas in need of repair or sidewalk installation. The results of the assessment will be presented to the school board, city council, and beautification committee. Funds will be sought to correct the shortfalls that now exist to improve the safety and walkability of the community.
